Salem Cross Inn & The Quabbin Reservoir

What better way to enjoy some beautiful fall foliage than to take a drive into scenic Central Massachusetts? Today we will travel north to the Salem Cross Inn, where we will meet a tour guide for a guided tour of the beautiful Quabbin Reservoir, one of the largest man-made public water supplies in the United States. Our guide will tell us about the unusual steps that had to be taken in order for this reservoir to be built.

After our tour we will return to the Salem Cross Inn where we will enjoy a luncheon of either

Boston Broiled Scrod or Yankee Pot Roast. This old country inn is know for its delicious New England style home cooking. You will not be disappointed. Following lunch we will travel to Brookfield Orchards where you will have time to browse and shop their large selection of seasonal goods, including apple cider, baked goods, jams and jellies and so much more.
